50 Grads In Commencement Tonight, 7:30

Seniors, Science Club Clinch Victories

Junior Class Gives Seniors Stiff Competition

The Senior Class under the leadership of Dwayne Little has been named Class of the Year for 1962. Because of many activities in which a large number of the class participated and several other factors, they were able to gain more points than any of the other classes.

Officers were Dwayne Little, president; Paul Andrus, vice-president; Sue Hayes, secretary; Miriam Goodwin, treasurer; Carol Farthing, reporter; Don Pitzer, Student Council representative; sponsor, Dr. Charles Childers.

Very close runner-up was the Junior Class, who have also been active this year. Ed LeJeune is president of that class.

Winning the Club-of-the-Year race is the Science Club under the leadership of Ken Hemmerly. Among their activities were a trip to the Great Smoky Mountains, recharging the fire-extinguishers, parties, picnics and sponsoring a bulletin board.

Annual Alumni Banquet Held

The Alumni Banquet this year was held in the cafeteria Monday night at 7:30, May 4. At the close of the banquet the annual business meeting was held and new members were welcomed.

This year the classes of 1942 and 1952 had their twenty and ten year reunions respectively. The 1942 class was the first four year graduating class of Trevecca. Their sponsor was Mrs. Mackey. Alumni who haven't been back to Trevecca came to the banquet from as far away as Illinois. One of the members of the 1942 class is now a member of the Board of Trustees from Florida. Also, Mrs. Phillips and Mr. Richardson were members of this class.

Rev. Jones, pastor of College Hill Church, president of the Alumni Association, presided. There was an election of officers for the coming year. Miss Eula Jean Stephen was in charge of arrangements.

Jubilant seniors ready for tonight's ceremonies pose on the steps of the McClurkan Building. Those graduating are Ken Hamrick, Morton Estep, Barbara Williams Stephens, Sue Hayes, Eugene Figge, and Carol Farthing.

Dedication of Mackey Library After Graduation

Dr. A. B. Mackey, president of Trevecca Nazarene College, will present the college class of '62 with their diplomas tonight at 7:30 on the Mackey Library lawn. Fifty seniors will be participating.

Professor Hammond will play the traditional processional the "Grand March from Verdi" as the faculty in their gray caps and gowns and the seniors form their long, solemn line. The invocation will be given by Rev. L. S. Oliver, district superintendent of the Alabama district. The A Cappella Choir will perform led by Professor Ramon Unruh. They will sing "Almighty God of Our Fathers" and "God Is Still on the Throne" arranged by Miss Barbara McClain.

The commencement address will be given by Dr. S. T. Ludwig, Executive Secretary of the Department of Religion in the Church of the Nazarene. After this will be the presentation of diplomas and degrees by Dr. Mackey. Miss Amy L. Person will announce the honors.

Dr. S. T. Ludwig will preside over the library dedication at which Dr. John L. Knight will speak. The library will be dedicated to the president of the college Dr. A. B. Mackey, who has served Trevecca in that position for twenty-six years. The act of dedication will be a responsive reading by the congregation and Dr. Charles Childers will pray the dedicatory prayer.

The recessional, played by Professor Hammond, will be "March Pontificale."

Those graduating with honors are La Nelle Cowan, magna cum laude; Dwayne Little, cum laude; and Don Turner, cum laude.

During the ceremony Rev. H. Harvey Hendershot will receive an honorary degree.

ment exercises this evening.

Rev. Hendershot came to Trevecca as a student at the age of fourteen where he finished high school and attended college. His job was to fire the furnace in McKay Hall. Dr. Mackey said of Hendershot that he was one in a hundred who came to Trevecca at such an early age to work his way through school and succeed as he did.

His wife, the former Maxine Moore is the sister of Carolyn Moore who is a TNC student. They have one son, James.

Before he was elected by the West Virginia district as superintendent he served in many positions on that district, including as pastor and camp manager. He is a member of the board of trustees of Trevecca Nazarene College.

Plans Made for New Women's Dorm

Today the Board of Trustees of Trevecca Nazarene College meets in session to prepare, if possible, a resolution to apply for a loan from the Housing and Home Finance Agency of the government for funds with which to build dorm facilities for two hundred students on this campus.

The preliminary application for a loan is in the negotiating stage. The U.S. Office of Education has handed down the opinion that TNC is eligible for the government loan.

The recommendation is for two buildings, the first of which contains a student center and housing facilities for 94 girls. The second building, which could be built later would house 106 girls.

The limestone structure, flat-roofed and modern in design, is fashioned for the area between Mc-

Kay Hall and Gibbs Hall. Three stories will face the private drive and the full basement containing student center, kitchenette, lounge and patio will face west toward the city.

On the top two floors will be pressing rooms. The head resident's quarters, consisting of a living room, bedroom, kitchen and storage space, will be located on the first floor. The street level will have two front entrances; one will open into the parlor and the other will lead to the staircase.

Each room will hold two girls. The rooms feature spacious closets, built-in desks, lavatories and dividers between bedroom space and study space. Floor space in the dorm per girl would be 167 square feet. Total area of the dorm is to be 15,710 square feet.

The new dormitory will be larger than either of the other women's dorms, the largest of which contains 87 residents. Room rent is estimated to be $65 quarterly.

Preliminary drawings were made by Dougherty, Miller and Patton Architects and Engineers of Nashville. They have also assisted in drawing up plans to bring the standing dorms into conformity with the new city standards since we are now in the city.

If the recommendation is made and the loan is granted, work on the first of the proposed women's dormitories will be started sometime in 1962.

Trevecca will not build this facility as a self-contracted job. Government supervision will require the services of a general contractor with firm bids.

New Members Attend Phi Delta Lambda Breakfast

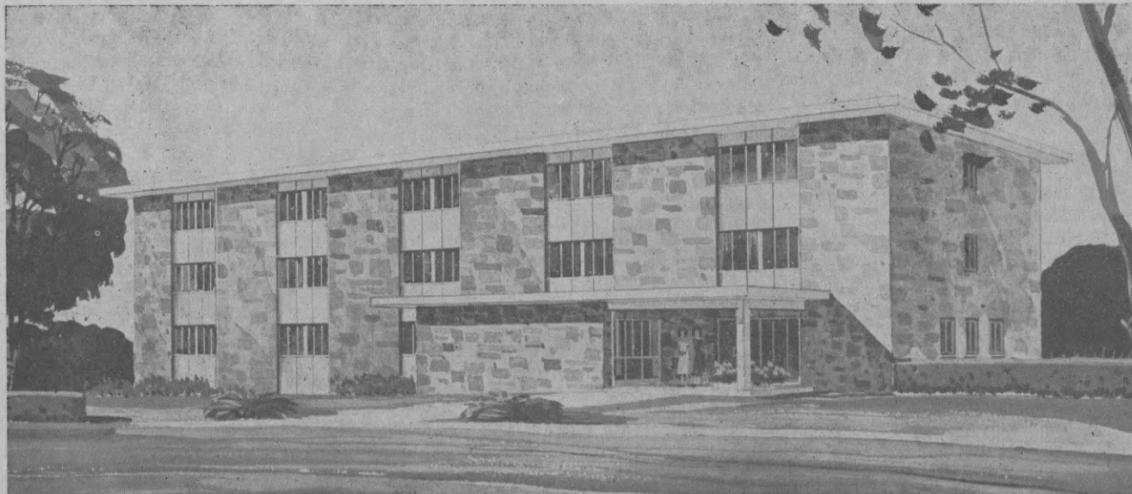

This morning the Zeta chapter of the Phi Delta Lambda Society met for its annual breakfast and business meeting in the banquet room of the cafeteria.

New members were inducted. They were LaNelle Cowan, Dwayne Little, and Don Turner. To be admitted to the society a graduate must have maintained a 2.5 scholastic average during his stay at TNC. It is a great honor to be received into this honorary society of the colleges of the Church of the Nazarene.

Miss Amy L. Person is the local president. Mrs. Juanita Jernigan is the secretary-treasurer. Miss Person presided over the business meeting.

Hendershot to Get Honorary D. D. Degree

Rev. H. Harvey Hendershot has been selected to receive the honorary degree bestowed by TNC this spring. The district superintendent of West Virginia will receive his Doctor of Divinity title at com-

A Letter to the Student Body

To the students of TNC:

Another Thanksgiving, another Christmas, another Easter, our final exams—and now the 1961-62 school year is at its close. This may be alarming to some, yet with others it is perhaps the most anticipated event of the year—The End.

However, this has not been just another year. It holds special significance historically. Yes, it has been the year of even greater achievements of man toward the conquering of space. But here at TNC history has also been made (even other than that in Dr. Adams' classroom). The first Student Leadership Conferences were held this year. Those student leaders elected by you, the student body, were privileged to attend. Benefits resulting from these conferences included improved relations, more cooperation, better communication, improved school spirit and better understanding between faculty and students.

New clubs were organized and have been officially operating as such during the course of the year. Some of these include the Art Club, the Math Club, and the Rambler's Club.

Club Rush Day was a booming success as it benefited the clubs through aiding in a better method of recruiting new members. Cash prizes were awarded to the first and second place winners in the best club booths.

The Easter Sunrise Service had good attendance by students and church members of the city. The radio, television and newspaper announcements concerning this service helped publicize Trevecca to the people of Nashville.

Student attendance was extremely good at the Student Council Lectures. Our layman speaker, Dr. Paul Gray, a dentist from Ashland, Ky., spoke on the fundamental responsibilities of the Christian layman in service for the Lord.

To help end the year in the best possible way Rev. John Knight brought the series of messages for the Spring Revival, sponsored by the Student Council. This revival helped many students straighten out their problems and commit their lives to God's will. This was definitely one of the highlights of the end of the year.

The largest All-School Project in the history of TNC has netted us this year with over $3,000 in four months. Due to this extensive campaign our Mackey Library will be dedicated now at commencement time. All students and faculty concerned with this campaign have done a marvelous job.

The above mentioned activities and events are but a few of the most important ones in which you students participated to help make this year a success—for this it has truly been. It is with this realization in mind that I congratulate and commend each of you for a year's work and cooperation that will long be remembered. It has been a privilege working with you, by you, and for you. May each of you strive to do an even better job next year under the capable leadership of Dale Melton. A big thanks to you, the student body.

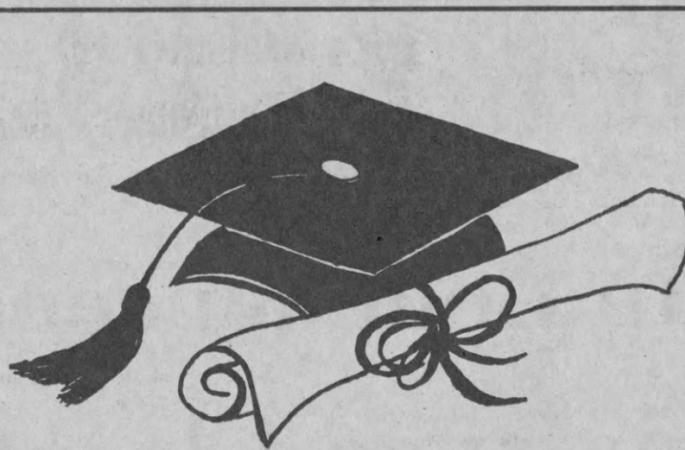

Sincerely yours,
DENNY HAGE, President
Council Student

From the Editor's Desk

Wading in the stream of humanity is the most interesting pastime a person can have. I as your editor this year have enjoyed all the interesting angles which this job has drawn for me. Between Trev-Echoes office in the basement of the Fine Arts and Benson Printing Company downtown and your mailbox, your school paper passed through the hands of some fascinating people and I have been delighted to meet them all. I desperately wish everyone at TNC could edit the paper one year. To Marilyn Baldwin, next year's editor, I leave a psychology textbook, a vocational course in printing, a creative writing class, a test for personality integration, a lesson on social aptitudes, a challenge to her endurance, a position as English teacher, some erasers and a broom and dustpan. She'll need them all.

I wish to publicly acknowledge Dr. Childers for his wise direction; Richard Smith and Al Hayes for use of their photographic skill; the journalism class for their constantly improving contributions to the paper; the whole staff for working so hard; the columnists for their faithfulness; Ray Kohser for the use of her coffee pot; Bob Cook for counting our pennies; Mr. Martin for helping fix up the office; Hugh Smith for chauffeuring; the men at the printing company who used their skill to make our paper a success; the helpful advice of so many of you; the students for even reading the paper; and Thom Houseman for his ideas, encouragement, gasoline and cinnamon rolls.

To Marilyn Baldwin, the associate editor, goes the biggest THANK YOU of all for standing by through every deadline, for showing a willing-to-work attitude and for adding that extra inspiring spark of ironic humor which kept production moving.

Congratulations to the Class of 1962

Congratulations Are Conditional

Graduation!

Ah, what a relief. No more of the famous five C's of a senior's year; those being convocation, conglomeration, concentration, convulsions and commencement. All the way from a rendition of "Deep River" to the last shove on the last suitcase and a long ride to adventure. You will be graduating. You seniors probably do not realize it, but you are about to do or die. The field of competition and challenge is staring at you like Old Mother Hubbard's dog, ready to ask you for your contribution. Preacher, you will have about 3,250 sermons in which to make that lasting impression in the clay of theology. Teacher, you will grapple the books about 4,000 times and make a running leap at your pupils' gapping minds with an arm load of intellectual goodies and spiritual insight. Yes, you have reached the do-it-quick-or-not-at-all bracket. At first you will be too zealous to do the job; then, you will hesitate because you lack experimental knowledge; then, when the wisdom comes, you will lack the push (mid-fifties). Shortly, the push and wisdom will wobble and you will be dreaming again. . . . The advice of Dr. DeLong is good for every one. "Don't write your books until you are at least forty years of age; then go sparingly." You housewives will be starting to prepare the 32,400 odd meals you will have prepared thirty years from now and hubby will be looking for an improvement by then.

Grief and all—don't forget you started it here. Don't be too hard on ole TNC. She was your choice, you know. When you leave, shut the door to the improprieties of college and knuckle down to the business of being a success like we all are telling you that you should be. Congratulations are conditional.

Your Spiritual Inheritance

"... A certain man had two sons, and the younger of them said to his Father, 'Father, give me the portion of goods that falleth to me,' . . . and not many days after the young son gathered all together, and took his journey into a far country, and there wasted his substance with riotous living."

How many times have we read these familiar verses? How many times have we heard this familiar sermon? Yet, how many of us ever think to apply it to our own lives?

Often we think these verses could apply only to a rebellious sinner, but occasionally even the most stalwart Christian can find himself playing the part of the prodigal son by becoming impatient with his Heavenly Father.

A person may ask God to grant those wishes and desires of his heart. Then he wants the answer to come fast, and directly in the manner he sees best.

If God answered our prayers in the manners we see fit, how many of us would find ourselves perishing with spiritual hunger within a few weeks?

If all our spiritual inheritance were given to us at one time, many of us would "waste our substance with riotous living." Is it best to stay always close to the Father, and receive our inheritance as it is needed, rather than to gain all at once, wander astray, and lose in the end?

When we pray, we should let God be the judge of the time element in

New S. C. Members Learn Duties

Student Council representatives for next year have been chosen. Representing the Senior Class will be Ed LeJuene, president of the Junior Class this year. For the Junior Class, Don Irwin will be sitting in on Council business. Don is a math major. Winona Flatt, an honor student, will be Sophomore Class representative.

A special business session was held May 24 at Greer's Restaurant. All the new members were present and were introduced to Student Council procedure.

Other new members meeting with the Council were Marilyn Baldwin, next year's Trev-Echoes editor and Douglas Askew, the new CWA president. Returning to the Council are Jerry Appleby, new secretary; Charlotte Porter, new Darda editor; and Dale Melton, next year's Student Council president.

Dr. Homer J. Adams was unanimously elected as sponsor for next year's Council.

our prayers, "patience worketh miracles." not impatience.

Guard against impatience. Do not forget to pray, but do not forget to let God do the answering. God always answers prayer. Sometimes He says yes to our requests; sometimes He says no, but sometimes He says that we are to wait for a while. Do not become impatient and ask for all your inheritance at one time.

C W A REPORT

by Patsy Wood

As the end of the school year rapidly approaches, we as Christian workers feel a deep sense of satisfaction, for we can look back over the work of the year and see that many blessings have been made possible as a result of our labors. Not only have we ourselves reaped blessings by spreading the gospel to the needy, but those to whom we have ministered have received blessings and hope.

The C. W. A. operates under organized and careful supervision and has progressed well this year under the leadership of Jack Clayton as President and Rev. Koy W. Phillips as Sponsor. A special word of appreciation is expressed to all the officers for the fine way they have fulfilled their duties.

Approximately 554 persons have been saved and 591 received spiritual help in the services this year; 2,763 have expressed concern for their soul's need by raising their hands for prayer. More than 3,885 workers have participated in over 700 services during this school year. Since many of our workers will be going home for the summer, here is a special challenge to those who are staying for summer school to be faithful in participation. Willing workers are needed at all times, but especially are they needed during the summer when so many active members are away.

An installation service for next year's officers was held in the final C. W. A. prayer meeting of the quarter last Monday evening. These weekly prayer meetings provide a special time of inspiration and instruction to the Christian worker. These few minutes spent each week in prayer for the work and the short but challenging message by our C.W.A. President, a fellow student, or a visiting minister give those who attend the prayer meeting spiritual blessing and strength as well as guidance and understanding. C.W.A. prayer meetings will continue to be held through the summer every Monday evening at 6:00 p.m.

This has been a good year for the Christian Worker's Association; but as this year closes, a new one begins. We must pray and work with diligence and devotion to make next year a successful one in service for our Lord.

Correction: Richard Staley holds the office of C. W. A. Visitation Chairman rather than Lamar Smith as stated in the April 27 issue of Trev-Echoes. Sorry, my mistake.

The DARDA Arrived!

"Preparing for the Space Age" is the theme of the 1962 Darda. After a special program honoring the seniors on May 21, Mary Jane Still, this year's editor, along with Sharon Marlin, business manager, presented the yearbook in chapel.

Preparing for the Space Age through concentration, consecration, cooperation, competition, and commendation. The cover is peri-winkle blue with a spaceship, symbol of the space age, on the cover. The theme is carried throughout in the same deep blue background with sparkling stars and planets. It was dedicated to Dr. Charles L. Childers.

Benson Printing Company printed the annual. The process used is called off-set. A return to slick, shiny paper was made. This year, as last year, colored pictures were used. Plastic covers have been provided to keep the books looking clean.

Campus Capers

By MARITA SLIFER

Oh, what a wonderful day—both happy and sad. Happy because "it" is all over—"it" referring to all those headaches of end-of-the-quarter rush; sad, because of the parting from roommates, friends, that one special friend, and those professors (!?!). This is a day to be remembered, with all of the excitement and joy in the very unusual-type chapel service.

Have fun this summer and, please, forget those studies. You don't have to be begged to do such, I'm sure—except, of course, those "trying-to-get-ahead" scholars staying for summer school. Can you imagine—Mickie McMeans studying during the summer? Most of it will probably be done on the tennis court, Ha!

The campus is buzzing with the excitement of planning for the summer. However, there's one elite group that have very, very special plans. We want to send congratulations and best wishes to those with wedding plans whirling in their heads, this group including: Lois Conkey and Wade Westbrook, Esther Blume and Al Truesdale, Edith Hamilton and Earl Frye, Judy Frye and Curtiss Pearson, Connie Griffith and Gordon Ross, Mary John Williams and James Hansen, Marty Young and Roger Hord, Donna Schoolcraft and Sam Bell, Sue Hayes and James VanHook, Pam Thomas and Lowell Clyburn, Peggy Carson and Gene King, Linda Kolar and Dwayne Little, Judy Fortenberry and Vernon Henderson, Carolyn Moore and Morton Estep, Patsy Lawson and Gene Broach, Jenny Keith and Byron Dollar, Miriam Goodwin and Hugh Smith, Barbara Jo Goodman and Mitchell Quick, Beverly Adams and Jesse Sims, Wanda Arkley and Robert Blair, Carolyn Hill and Everett Higginbotham. It looks as if the theme song of every group and class is "Those Wedding Bells Are Breaking Up That Old Gang of Mine."

Of course, everyone has plans—not as big and exciting as the previous mentioned, maybe—but, some of them should prove to be very interesting, the way it sounds. Here's a few of the plans:

Barney Baggott—on quartet tour to encourage some good-lookin' girls to enter Trevecca fall quarter

Al Hayes—to gain twenty pounds on quartet tour

Ray Bird—to open up a Balloon Factory

Sylvia Thrasher and Ken Hamrick—to go to Chicago with Sylvia's family to the Billy Graham Crusade

Janice Adams—to go home and write Don and be in Beverly's wedding

Marilyn Harbold—to see LeRoy four times

Jenny Wilcox—to go home, sew, and job hunt.

Tommy Jean Howard—to go home "and do everything I can."

Leo Berry—try to cause a riot in Tidwell

Charlie Sjoblem—to hold revivals and memorize more scripture

Marilyn Lillard—to be an aunt

Larry McCumber—to buy car—and, "I'm trying awfully hard to go steady."

Carol Cornelius—to ride around in Bob's new Olds convertible

Dallas Hill—to keep Miss Peery and girls one night on tour.

Karen Skinner, Chloe Combs, Larry Foster, Mary Leidigh, Sylvia Donley, Barbara Jones—take a vacation to sunny Florida for a long rest

Sid Riley—to get the "Three 'S' Cure" (Sun, Sand, Saltwater)

Mary Lou Tieman—to just work and see Bob

Don Henderson—to wear a raincoat on night-watching job in Tidwell (suggested)

Ruth Christensen—to go steady with next year's editor of "Campus Capers."

A note of interest: after the Senior-Faculty breakfast, Mrs. Mackey was overheard saying to Dr. Mackey, "Would you like to ride with me? My car is parked over here under a bush."

Since this is my last column after writing for two years, I want to thank everyone for the "newsy" bits, comments on the column, and for taking out time to read the notes of interest on campus. Erbin Baumgardner will be your columnist next year—give him your support, okay?

There's a big group to which I want to especially send a big, big "thank you"—the ones who can always give me PLENTY of unprintable news.

Thanks, everyone, for all of the laughs and fun—have a wonderful summer—and we're already anxious for next fall to come when we'll see you again.

Class of '42 Has Reunion

Mrs. A. B. Mackey honored the class she sponsored in 1942 with a reunion Breakfast this morning at Greer's Restaurant.

The Class of 1942 was the first to graduate from Trevecca as a four-year college.

Included in this class are Mrs. K. W. Phillips now on the faculty of TNC, and Mr. Neil Richardson, business manager of TNC. Others of the class are: Mrs. Woodrow Shows, (Jeanette Taylor), Mr. Clyde Owensby, Miss Pauline Cypert, Mrs. Gleen Aus (Myrtle Hooper), Mrs. Daniel McNutt (Nora Dean Gilliam), Mr. Samuel Vann, class president, Doyle Ray Thomas, Mrs. S. M. Shaw (Ruby Lee Neely), and Mrs. Shelby Felts (Mary Fleck).

Choir Letters Given To 7

This year seven A Capella Choir members received letters in reward for their service in the choir. Those members receiving school letters were Jerry Appleby, Lois Conkey, Jimmy Eades, Curtis Pearson, Marita Slifer, Pat Taylor and Patsy Wood.

High School Senior Trip

One of the most memorable occasions for any high school graduate is the Senior Trip.

The 1962 graduating class of Trevecca High School made its trip to Falls Creek Falls on May 22.

The group, composed of Ray Gomer, Gene Dalton, Danny Fountaine, Jack Galloway, Terry Robertson, Leroy Cullen, Sherril Neilson, John Staley, Forrest Wise, Carol Richardson, Loraine Staley, Sue Gartner, and Professor and Mrs. Costa, left the school at 6:30 a.m. They arrived at the Falls around 10:00 a.m.

The days activities included climbing a 250-foot canyon, wading the creek, eating hamburgers, having Carol faint, getting all wet, tearing clothes, and all the usual things that go to make a school picnic a real success.

The group, wet, tired and hungry, arrived on campus at 5:30 a.m.

Requirements for nomination is to have been in the choir for two years. Also all choir members have to maintain a C average and attend regular as well as extra practices. Those who receive the awards were voted on by the choir and then the letters were presented to them during the final chapel service today.

Seniors Visit Montgomery Bell

Two brave seniors, Chloe Combs and Margaret Leidigh, began Senior Day early by going to Montgomery Bell State Park on Thursday night and staying in the inn.

Three of the men, James Spruill, Dwayne Little and Ed Stiles, went before daybreak on Friday morning, so they could get an early start on the fish.

Breakfast was served to fifteen seniors at the Montgomery Bell Inn. Between this time and lunch a rain storm kept everyone inside. Inside games were provided in the recreation center so everyone had plenty to do.

The sun did come shining through before lunch was over and the afternoon was spent in peddle boats, swings, and on hikes.

The evening meal was served to eighteen seniors, after which Dr. Childers gave them a "farewell" speech.

Everyone returned to school worn out, sun-burned and ready to face their last week of school.

Fine Arts Recital

Music students presented the final Fine Arts Recital Friday night, May 25 at 8:00 p.m. On the program were the piano students of Miss Barbara McClain and the voice students of Professor Ramon Unruh.

Included on the program were Esther Costa, Suzanne McManus, Cathy Chilton, Sharon Norrick, Curtiss Pearson, Emily Butler, Janice Hay, Patsy Wood, Dennis Hage, and Lucy Williams.

Ushers were Myron Wise and Jerry Appleby. Usherettes were Barbara Stiles and Pam Dinkins.

Singers Make Summer Tours

Four singing groups will be traveling for the school this summer. Two quartets, a trio and a mixed group.

The girls' trio called the Trev-A-Tone Trio is composed of Sharon Norrick, Suzanna McManus and Barbara Stiles. They will be traveling with Miss Marie Peery at least part of the time and also with Dr. Franklyn Wise whose daughter, Martha, will accompany him.

The Ambassadors Quartet is composed of Jerry Appleby, Al Hayes, Myron Wise and Barney Baggott. In the Evangelaires Quartet sing Jess Middendorff, Gene Smith, John Sugg and Carl Taylor. Rev. Clifford Keys will travel with one of the quartets.

The Mixed Trio will visit camp meetings and assemblies to represent Trevecca. Lois Conkey and Lucy Williams will sing and Wade Westbrook will speak.

Unruh Elected

Professor Ramon Unruh has been elected secretary-treasurer of the local chapter of the National Association of Teachers of Singing.

The Nashville chapter is one of several across the national organization. There are 2,000 members in the United States. Louis Nickolis of Peabody was elected national president at the last annual meeting. The society seeks to unify improve methods in voice teaching. It was begun in 1944.

Senior Plans

You'd never suppose so many dreams could come true at one time unless you asked a few members of the Senior Class what their plans are following graduation. Of course, some are indefinite as to plans for the future but most of them know the general direction they'll be heading after June 5.

Ed Stiles and LaNelle Cowan will be getting married in July and making their home in Donelson. Ed's plans are to remain at Kroger's at least for a while and LaNelle will be teaching in one of Davidson County high schools.

Don Pitzer will be teaching Junior High mathematics in Davidson County next year. Bill Putnam and his wife, Glenda, are making their home in Atlanta, Georgia, where Bill will teach high school history.

Dwayne Little and Linda Kolar will be married two days after graduation. Their home will be in Donelson for the summer. Dwayne will enter the University of Cincinnati for graduate work, while Linda teaches elementary school nearby.

Bob Cook and his wife, Karen, will spend the summer in Huntington, West Virginia, and then go to Kansas City in the fall, where Bob will enter the seminary and where Karen will teach elementary school.

Morton Estep will be married to Carolyn Moore in August and then enter full-time evangelistic work.

Gene and Patsy Frame, with their son, Tony, will be moving to their nine-room parsonage in Huntington, Indiana, where they have pastored the last few months.

Eugene Figge with his wife, son, and daughter, will take the church at Proctorsville, Ohio.

Bob Dixon will begin pastoring the church at Winchester, Kentucky, accompanied by his wife and two sons.

After a summer's vacationing in the West, Lorraine Murray will teach elementary school in Jacksonville, Florida.

Sue Hayes will be married to James Van Hook in August. They will make their home in Nashville where Sue will teach elementary school while James finishes college.

Lois Conkey and Wade Westbrook will be married immediately after graduation. They will travel for the school this summer. Lois will teach elementary school in Davidson County while her husband attends Trevecca.

Miriam Goodwin will be married to Hugh Smith in August. They will return to Nashville where Miriam will teach elementary school and fill the place of a minister's wife while Hugh finishes school and pastors a church in Jamestown, Tennessee.

Mary Jane Golden will attend Peabody College in the summer and begin working for the Tennessee State Government as a statistician in the fall while her husband, Mike, attends Trevecca.

Our nurse, Margaret Leidigh, is going to work full-time in the hospital in Gulfport, Mississippi. She will also be doing Christian work in the church there.

Bill Davis and his wife and family are returning to the Indianapolis District in Indiana.

William Thomas with his wife and four children plans to enter the seminary as soon as possible and later go into the Navy as a chaplain.

Wanda Staley plans to teach school in Kansas City while her husband Jim is in the seminary. Of course, their daughter, Martha, will accompany them.

Duane Houston, too, will enter the seminary this fall and marry Jeanetta Bartley in November.

After working in Florida this summer, Denny Hage will enter Peabody College to do graduate work. His wife, Ann, will teach in Davidson County.

Don Turner, his wife and little Don, will reside in Nashville. Don plans to teach.

Riley Lawrence, with his wife and son will be pastoring a church.

Another full-time evangelist will be Benny Bryan. His wife and daughter plan to travel with him.

Everette Robinson plans to continue pastoring the church in Donelson where he, his wife, and daughter live.

Marquita Roddy will be an elementary teacher in Davidson County next year while her husband, Bill, finishes college.

Mary Beth Elkins plans to be baby-sitting along with keeping house for her husband, Bill.

Ken Hamrick will remain in Nashville and work for Ryder Rental Agency. His plans for the future are indefinite.

A summer vacation with relatives, will be taken by Mary Combs, before she begins teaching high school in the fall.

Barbara Stevens plans to teach elementary school while her husband, Richard, attends Trevecca. They will reside in Nashville.

Charles Acheson, with his wife and family, will begin pastoring as soon as possible.

Paul Andrus will continue his pastorate in Smyrna, Tennessee.

Eugene Campbell, with his wife, son, and daughter will move to his church in Wartburg, Tennessee.

Chloe Combs will spend a "quiet" summer in Florida and then teach elementary school in the fall.

To Anchorage, Alaska, Kenneth Heaton with his wife and two children will return. Freda Henderson plans to teach school in Proctorsville, Ohio. Gerald Spear is going into business for himself in Lawrenceburg, Tennessee immediately after graduation.

Gerald Woods will move, with his wife and son, to his church in Opelika, Alabama.

Gene King will be married two days after graduation to Peggy Carson. They will reside in Nashville while Peggy attends Trevecca her senior year.

Jo Ann Smith will also have a June wedding. She'll be married to Wendell Poole and they will both be teaching school in Davidson County this fall.

Curtiss Pearson plans to be married this summer to Judy Fry and then be a church minister of music.

THE TALLY BOX

by Jimmy Stocks

Now it's over and the sports of TNC, 1961-2 are now history.

The Betas captured the football and basketball trophies and lost the softball trophy by one game. This has been a very exciting year in sports with close races for first place in every sport.

The all-star game between the all-stars and champions was played last Tuesday with the all-stars tramping the Alphas, who are the champs, 14-4. The winning pitcher was Parker Neetles and the losing pitcher was Paul Andrus. This was the first defeat for Andrus this year.

Voted as the "Outstanding Player" in softball was Mr. Bob Cook. Bob is a senior and comes to us from West Virginia. He has been a utility man for the Alphas. He played catcher, pitcher, infielder, and outfielder. He filled each part well.

Another fine sportsman who was a newcomer this quarter is Don Dunlap. He played leftfield for the Betas and filled that position well.

Others who played well for the Betas were Fred Cunningham, Carl Taylor, Don Irwin, and the rest of the gang.

The Alphas' outstanding men were Bob Cook, Hugh Smith, Glen Wheaton, Forest Spruill, and Sonny Sams.

The Deltas were inexperienced but had fine quality in Wayne Dollar, Keith Ketterman, Barney Baggett, and Parker Neetles along with Sherrill Neilson.

With next year approaching, it looks like a very bright future for the three clubs here at Trevecca.

Again I'd say—this has been a very fine year in sports.

HOW DO YOU RATE? Library Gets New Card Catalogue

Given below are the results of a survey made in Dr. Leon Chambers home and family class recently. It reveals the main criticisms of boys and girls on the campus from members of the opposite sex. The survey was narrowed down to six.

CRITICISM OF BOYS

1. Lack courtesy and manners. (Don't open doors; push and shove out of classrooms; lack friendliness; too boisterous; disrespectful)
2. Procrastinators all. (Wait until the last minute to ask for date; takes one for granted after several dates; do not plan dates.)
3. Don't know how to ask for a date; too forward or too shy.
4. Do not act mature enough; talk too much about themselves; conceited; line feeders.
5. Inconsiderate; never prompt; gossip.
6. Neglect of personal appearance and clothes; wear weird combinations; unkempt hair; look slovenly.

CRITICISMS OF GIRLS

1. Too anxious to get married.
2. Too flirty.
3. Too egotistical and naive.
4. Inconsiderate; late; partial to boys with cars; want to single date all the time; are not understanding about expenses; careless in appearances; too demanding of boyfriend's time.
5. Talk too much about past boyfriends and with roommates about dates.
6. Stay in groups too much, making it hard to be asked for a date.

The Mackey Library is proud to announce that they now have a new card catalog. The old catalog was getting rather crowded with only seventy drawers. The new one is a little over twice that size with 144. This catalog matches the consultation tables in the lobby and the furniture in the main reading room. It is a blonde birch finish.

The drawers will only be about half full and this will enable the expansion of the card catalog more rapidly.

The card catalog is the index to all the library bookholdings. There are usually three cards to each book and many times more. The three main ones are title, author and subject. At present there are 22,590 books indexed in the card catalog.

Junior Class

Officers are Kenneth Hemmerly, president; Jimmy Stocks, vice-president; Barbara Johnson, secretary; Ken Irwin, treasurer; Lynn Barnes, reporter; and Mr. John Dix, sponsor.

Runner-up in the race was the Student Education Association. Carolyn Moore is the president.

A new trophy was purchased this year for the Club-of-the-Year. In previous years only a certificate has been presented. The trophies will all be placed in the trophy case in the McClurkan Building.

Dr. Hardy, Former Math, Art Clubs President, Speaks Give Hobo Party

Sunday, June 3, at 2:30 p.m. was the date for the 1962 Baccalaureate Service.

Dr. C. E. Hardy who was president of Trevecca Nazarene College from 1915-1925 and from 1928-1937, brought the message. Dr. Hardy has also been a pastor, minister, district superintendent, and a medical doctor.

The Treble Tone Choir under the direction of Miss Barbara McClain sang "O God our Help in Ages Past" and "Jesus Led Me All the Way."

Rev. H. H. Hendershot gave the invocation and Rev. E. W. McDowell pronounced the benediction.

The service was in the McClurkan Memorial Building.

"Southern Dreamland"

The Junior-Senior Banquet was held in the Commodore Room of the Andrew Jackson Hotel on May 26. The theme "Southern Dreamland" was carried out with magnolia centerpieces and the old Southern styling of the room. Decorations were in green and white.

Ed Alred entertained by singing some Southern songs. Bobby McClesky sang with him in a duet, "Beautiful Dreamer." They were accompanied by Ann Hage.

Marita Slifer read the class prophecy and Charlotte Porter and Thom Houseman read the class-will.

Who works for glory misses off the goal;

Who works for money coins his very soul.

Work for the work's sake, then, and it may be

That these things shall be added unto thee.
