Nashville Baptist Choir Presents Program

The chorus of the American Baptist Theological Seminary presented the fine arts program Friday night, February 5. This colored chorus was under the direction of Mrs. Fitzgerald. During the evening a varied program of Negro talent was presented by the chorus and Negro quartets. This group was sponsored by the Senior Class of the college.

Revival Tide Rises

The Lord has blessed with wonderful revival services in chapel. Many have found spiritual victory.

On Thursday, January 13, Rev. Ralph Schurman brought the chapel message. His text was Isaiah 43:1 "... fear not; for I have redeemed thee, I have called thee by name and thou art mine." He emphasized that the Lord had given us a commission to bring the lost to him. His new chorus, "Just a Little Bit More," was an inspiration.

Dr. H. J. Adams was scheduled to speak Friday, January 14, but the Lord broke in and the time was given over to an altar service. Many souls for whom we have been praying found definite victory and we are praising God for this.

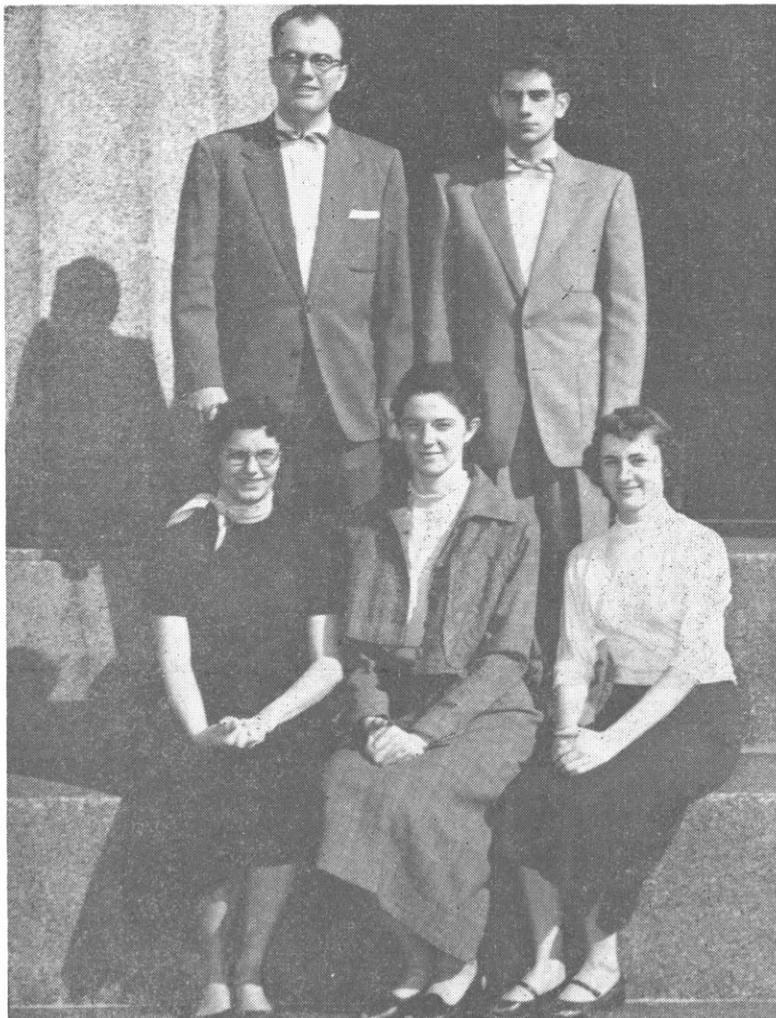

Our president's subject for the chapel message Monday, January 17, was "Open Doors and Shut Doors." Dr. Mackey defined sin as an attitude of heart toward God. The message was closed with an admonition to keep our conscience clear in our relationship to God.

After several testimonies, praising the Lord, Rev. M. E. Redford brought a message on Holiness, Tuesday, January 18. Taking his

Christian Workers Hear Plans for Success

Yes, you missed some vital information for successful Christian service, effectively presented by Professor Phillips, if you failed to attend the luncheon Monday, January 24, in the T-Room.

The purpose of this meeting was to bring to the attention of the captains, co-captains, and officers of the Christian Worker's Association some pointers which are vital for effective soul-winning and maintaining good standing for the school at the places of Christian work.

The following is a list of pointers which are important to our success in this type of work:

1. Always arrive and leave at scheduled time.

2. Be courteous and respectful to the officials; get acquainted with them and ask for sugges-

Juniors, Seniors Sponsor Valentine Banquet

Valentine's Day is almost here! To celebrate it on Trevecca Campus a banquet has been planned by the Junior and Senior Classes. This banquet, one of the important social events of the year, will be held Saturday, February 12, at 7:00 p.m. in the college cafeteria.

The theme will be "From My Heart to Yours," and a program has been centered around this. The menu will consist of tomato juice, congealed salad, ham with raisin sauce, candied yams, green beans, cherry tarts, iced tea, rolls and butter.

The dress will be formal or semi-formal as desired.

Science Club To Visit Mammoth Cave

Are you one who likes to sight-see? Then this article is for you! On February 19, at 6:00 a.m. the members of the Science Club are planning to board a Trailways bus and travel to Mammoth Cave where they will explore the wonders of nature. Some of the wonders which these sightseers will view are: the Historic Entrance, at which they will begin their explorations; the Snowball Dining Room, which is 267 feet below the ground and where the hungry travelers will eat a basket lunch and overlook the Crystal Lake which is 270 feet underground; they will sail on the waters of Echo River and view Frozen Niagara. Doesn't this sound interesting? The Science Club is inviting any students other than club members to go with them. The price is $6.25 per person. This includes the meal in the Snowball Dining Room, the bus fare both ways and the trip through the cave. The trip will last several hours. If you are interested, contact Frankie Edwards or Eugene Bergquist.

Remember that souls are greater than vocabularies, so try to read the overtones in the written and spoken words of your friends.

Keep First Things First

The spiritual life of an individual is strong or weak according as his prayer life is consistent or spasmodic.

The hope for better conditions and for solutions to world problems lies within the spiritual realm of life. There must be an increasing awareness to moral and spiritual values if peace is ever realized on national or international level.

There is a great need for people to take time to be holy and to have a deeper devotion to God so that God can provide channels through which he can release his power and grace in these days of uncertainty and confusion.

God can and will give victory in every situation in life if we keep first things first.

Seniors Sponsor Series

This is something we are all interested in. Yes!! This week from February 7-11 is a series of chapel talks on "etiquette" sponsored by the Senior Class. If you are interested in becoming more cultured and knowing how to do the right, then you will want to listen carefully to our speakers.

How Can I Know It Is Really Love?

That's a big question for a short answer. It's not easy either, for, as has been stated by one writer, "It is the total feeling we have about another person." What a person wants to know is, "Is the feeling real love or just infatuation?" One student emphasized the importance of this consideration when he said, "It looks as though if you got married on 'puppy love' you'd be apt to lead a dog's life." Infatuation has the same relationship to mature love that a puppy has to a mature dog—in other words it may become mature if it keeps growing.

The first test, therefore, is the Test of Time. It does take time for love to grow. It takes time to be sure. Rush into engagement and marriage and you will miss one of the best tests.

Another suggested test is the Test of Separation. To be sure it's really love you have to know it isn't primarily physical attraction. If you still feel that way about a person "after you have been separated from him for weeks or months, that would be a favorable indication."

An important test is the test of companionship. Do you find you have a lot in common, and do you enjoy doing a variety of things together as friends. These are good signs.

Other questions: how much do you really enjoy a person? How

Journalism Class Attend Seminar

Members of the journalism class attended a seminar on religious journalism sponsored by the Nashville Tennessean, January 27, 1955.

Dr. Webb Garrison, visiting professor at Scarritt College, spoke on "Social Significance of Religious Journalism." He said there is an acute crisis in communication in the world today. We must have a more constructive message for the people than ever before. We have great opportunities in religious journalism and are under obligation to gain a wide interest in what we have to give to the world.

The church editor of the Tennessean, Mr. James Carty, spoke briefly of the place for religious journalism in our papers. The people want to know what we are doing in the religious world and it the desire of the editors and managers to let them know.

Speech Students Attend Lectures

Members of the Advanced Public Speaking Class — Bobbie Arnold, Carol Ann Asbury, John R. Browning, Frankie Edwards, Jimmie Erickson, John Gibson and Calvin Privett—attended a number of sessions in the Religious Emphasis Week Program of Peabody Campus. The students heard such speakers as Dr. Arthur Compton, professor of natural sciences at the Washington University in St. Louis; Dr. Eugene Ellsworth Dawson, dean of students and administration, professor psychology, Kansas State Teachers College and co-ordinator of study of religion and higher education; Dr. Arthur Lee Kinsolving, rector of St. James Episcopal Church, New York; and Rev. James R. Hynes, D.D., pastor of McKinley Memorial Presbyterian Church.

The largest delegation from the class attended the lecture on Marriage and Family Life by Dr. James Hines.

Churches Have Revivals

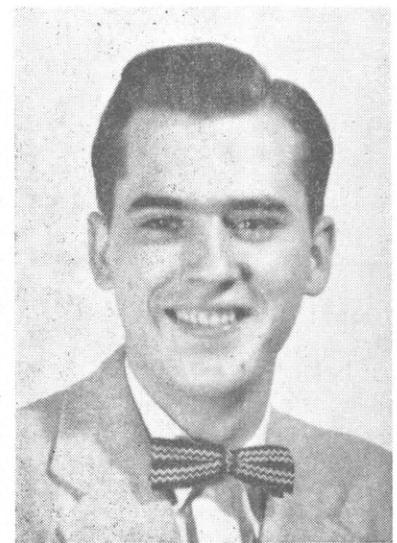

The revival fires, which we have been enjoying here at school, are also burning in the other Nazarene churches in the city of Nashville at the present time.

College Hill Church sponsored a Youth Week revival with Trevecca student preachers from January 20-23. The speakers included Charles Cunningham, J. C. Summerlin, Wendell Williams, Wayne Sharpes, and Leon Chambers. The revival closed with the presence of God prevailing and seekers finding victory. The school did not have a Fine Arts program Friday night, but encouraged the students to attend the revivals.

First Church has had the privilege of hearing Dr. James DeWeerd, pastor, Cadle Tabernacle, Indianapolis, Indiana. Dr. DeWeerd is an excellent preacher and pastor of a congregation of around six thousand. Much prayer ascended for this meeting and by the help of God it proved to be a profitable crusade.

The Holso Evangelistic Party was at Bethel Church for two weeks. This family preaches and sings a straight Bible doctrine. They are widely known and came to the city from Ohio.

From Nicaragua, Costa Rica, Canada and other foreign lands comes Rev. A. K. Jones to Old Hickory Church. Special singing is furnished by local talent. Rev. Jones is well known for his dy-

Sophomore Fills Responsible Positions

Our Darda staff has a very efficient and capable business manager. This is none other than R. T. Kendall, from Ashland, Kentucky.

R. T. is a sophomore and is known among his fellow students as a Christian gentleman. His friendliness to everyone, his capability of undertaking various responsibilities given him, and a consistent, Christian walk in his daily life characterizes our fellow classmate, R. T. He is a well-rounded student, showing interest in various activities.

Besides serving as business manager of the Darda, he is vice-president of the Sophomore class. His hobbies include creative writing, debating; he is also a talented singer and musician. He is active in Christian work and takes vital interest in the spiritual life of the school.

He plans to attend Seminary after graduation. His major is English and his minor is Religion.

Do You Ache?

Have you aches or pains? Well, you need not ache or pain any longer with the services of our school dispensary open to you. The hours are as follows:

namic messages.

The Christian Service Training Institute was held at College Hill Church from January 24-28. Dr. Harvey Galloway was the special speaker.

Speech Club Honors Miss Mabel Cooner

Strains of beautiful music, piles of sandwiches, and lots of good games characterized the Speech Club party January 26 in the Blue Flame Room of the Nashville Gas Company. The farewell party was in honor of the club's sponsor, Miss Mabel Cooner. She was presented a set of book ends from the club.

Miss Cooner left January 31 to enter the University of Alabama in Tuscaloosa, where she is working on her Master's Degree in Speech. She is expected to return for the fall quarter in 1955.

Wanda Phillips is president of the Speech Club. Audrey Sweeny and Frankie Edwards were in charge of the food; Carol Asbury and Robert Womack planned the games.

Sympathy

We wish to express sincere and deep sympathy to two of our fellow students—Stanley Harris in the loss of his father and John D'Armon in the loss of his mother. May God grant them added courage and strength at this time.

S. C. Club Has Outing

Members of the South Carolina State Club enjoyed a weiner roast Friday, January 21, at Shelby Park. They played games and were entertained with readings given by Joe Jones. Committee members who planned all the fun were, Nina Griggs, Moody Gunter, Shirley Montgomery, Roberta Griffin, and Joe Jones.

It's a wise man who knows the difference between temptation and opportunity.

Hardy Has Open House

Mrs. O. C. Mingledorf and the girls of Hardy Hall were the hostesses at a party given Saturday, January 29. Guests met in the cafeteria at 6:30 for a program and games. Open house was held in Hardy Hall after which refreshments were served in the cafeteria. This was the first in a series of parties to be sponsored by the dormitories.

text from Hebrews 12, he stressed that being born of the Spirit is a necessity to get to heaven; for death, and to see the Lord. Again victories were won around the altar.

"He that covereth his sins shall not prosper, but he that forsaketh them shall have mercy." This was the text for Rev. Downey's chapel message Wednesday, January 19.

Rev. Alexander Roebuck, pastor at Old Hickory, brought the chapel message Thursday, January 20. He chose a text from 2 Corinthians 6 and his subject was "Qualifications to Be A Worker with Him." The revival spirit continued with many seeking the Lord.

In his message, "Ways in Which People Dishonor the Holy Spirit," Rev. K. W. Phillips read scriptures from John 14. The Holy Spirit came in convicting power, and at the altar students sought and found victory.

Dr. A. B. Mackey urged us to keep the Holy Spirit in our hearts and to prove to God that we can be true to Him by standing up under persecution, in his message Monday, January 24.

Dr. Harvey Galloway, Superintendent of the Central Ohio District, and visiting speaker for the C.S.T. Institute at College Hill Church, brought the chapel message on Tuesday, January 25. He chose as a subject "Add" taken from the text, 2 Peter 1:5-8. He urged us to add those things to our lives that will build the proper Christian character.

"Earth's Last Best Hope" was the title of the message by Dr. James Deweerd, pastor of Cadle Tabernacle, Indianapolis. The problem of the world today is a revolt in the thinking of people. The remedy is not found in better education, or a better education, or a better economic system, but in God's Holy Word. Earth's last hope is a great evangelical Christian revival.

Students Contact High School Juniors, Seniors

The Life Service Department, under the supervision of Rev. C. E. Keys, is composed of representative students of each of the states on our Educational Zone. These students have already written to the pastors asking for the names of the high school juniors and seniors to whom they will send literature concerning Trevecca College. We know that students in their junior and senior years of high school receive material from many other colleges encouraging them to attend, so why not from T. N. C.? This is a service rendered by the students as an investment in the future lives of many young people.

How Can I Know It Is Really Love?

much do you care for his happiness? How much do you admire him? Will you be proud of that person as your husband or wife? Can you talk things over in a reasonable way? Are you well-matched socially, religiously, etc.? Are your dates free from conflicts and misunderstandings?

When two people fall so madly in love at first meeting that they want to be married right away, it's a good time to remember the law that says, "Stop, look, and listen!" Real love will not die that easily and can wait for intelligent consideration of the matter. A girl can become infatuated with a boy because he is handsome or fun to be with—infatuation needs but little to feed upon. Love depends on many personal characteristics. Clifford Adams, Marriage Counselor, says, "Love is a state of respect and comradeship that has developed because you have similar tastes, ideals, and hopes. That's why it's unlikely that two people can fall in love on one date. Comradeship which is a basic part of love, takes time to develop."

Above all, don't forget to pray—and don't hurry God. Take time to be sure. God is interested in your being happily, successfully married. Seek carefully divine guidance in the Scriptures and through prayer as you make the "choice of a lifetime."

Little "Ettie-Q" Would Like To Be Your Valentine

"Little Ettie-Q" has been hearing a lot of excited whispering about dates, dresses and flowers for the most exciting social event of the year, the annual Valentine Banquet. Every girl on the campus has been breathlessly waiting for months for that "certain someone" to ask her to the banquet. (As a gentle reminder, fellows, if you haven't asked her yet, remember there's only three days left.)

Fellows and girls, if you really want that date to BE your valentine, "Little Ettie-Q" has some important BEs to keep in mind:

Fellows: BE thoughtful enough to ask the color of the dress she plans to wear; remember that red carnations would look horrid on a pink background. BE prompt in calling for her, and above all, BE polite; the PA system has been placed in the dormitory for your convenience. BE sure to open doors for her and do not sit down at the table until you have seen to it that she is comfortably seated. BE mindful of your manners and eat and talk quietly.

Girls: BE ready on time; do not purposely or carelessly keep him waiting. BE thoughtful enough to thank him graciously for the flowers. BE gracious in receiving compliments; a quiet "thank you" and a genuine smile are all that is needed. Allow him the privilege of performing those little courtesies a gentleman likes to do for a lady. Above all else, BE your own self; he will like you that way.

tions or pointers for improving the services.

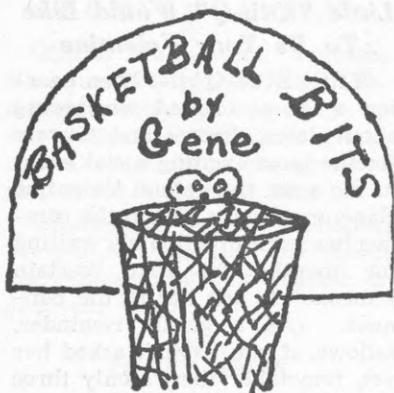

3. Have group prayers before arriving so as not to cause disturbance in the vestibules or corridors where you wait for admittance.

4. Do not make personal references to the officials when ministering to the prisoners in the services.

5. Plan your service well; street services should be as well-planned as a radio program.

6. Avoid calling names of ladies in men's departments when it is necessary for them to aid in the services at such places as the street service, county jail, and county workhouse.

7. When speaking, do not refer to the prisoners as being "in jail," (Continued on page 4, col. 3)

Sports Notes

The old record of 28 points held by Elmer Heaberlin was broken in the Upperclassmen's defeat of the High School 60-37. The new record is now held by Howard Spruill with 29.

The Lucy Holt scoring record for one team is 64 points set last year by the Upperclass, Eagles, in the first game of the season.

The Upperclassmen are leading in total offense with an average of 45.8 points a game. The Sophomores are holding down the defense, limiting their foes to only 30.8 points per game. Howard Spruill leads in the point bracket with an average of 17.3 points per game.

Who will wear the 1955 basketball crown? This question is being settled as the weeks go by. Have you been missing out on these thrilling games? If so, plan to attend soon.

Sophomores Win—Overtime Upperclassmen Win Second Game

Moody Gunter hit a 25 foot set-shot in the last ten seconds to tie the Sophomores 35-35 and send the game into an overtime. The Sophomores outscored the Freshmen 4-2 in the overtime for a 39-37 victory.

The Freshmen jumped into a 9-3 first period lead but by the half the Sophomores had nearly closed the gap. The score was 20-19. By the third rest period the "Big Red" had moved ahead 31-30.

In the overtime Whittington hit to put the Freshmen ahead 37-35, but Strickland and Shelton hit the hoop to give the Sophomores their third victory in four starts.

Strickland had things well in hand, scoring 18 for the winners. Gunter and Pettit netted 11 each for the Freshmen.

Va. Club Has Party

The Virginia Club had a weiner roast in the T-Room, Saturday evening, January 29. They are the first to use the new fireplace. This party was held in honor of Doris Byers who was the highest seller of T. N. C. seals in the club.

It wasn't a four alarm fire but things were about that warm when the Upperclassmen squeezed by the Sophomores 30-29. This game only lasted twenty-four minutes due to its late start but every second was a thrilling one.

The Sophomores grabbed a 4-0 lead, its largest of the game, and the Upperclassmen led 25-21 for its largest margin. The score changed hands several times and not until the final horn sounded was victory certain. With 25 seconds on the clock Ace Rose hit the last of two foul shots, with the score tied 29-29 to give the Upperclassmen their slim margin of victory.

"Big" Bill Stricklin led the Sophomores with 15 points, and Godby netted 7. Spruill hit for 10 while Rose scored 8 for the winners.

Hollises Entertain Club

A good time was had by the members of the West Virginia Club on Tuesday evening, January 25, when they met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Allan Hollis for some homemade chili. At this supper the members discussed plans and activities for the future.
