N. N. C. Crusader

VOL. XV - NO. 22

NORTHWEST NAZARENE COLLEGE, NAMPA, IDAHO

Friday, March 23, 1956

MR. ANDERSON WILL GIVE RECITAL TODAY

Earle H. Anderson, baritone, INSPECTED will be presented in recital by the Northwest Nazarene College Music Club on Friday, March 23, at 3:45 p.m.

The recital will be presented in the NNC auditorium.

Anderson makes his home in Pasadena, California where he has been professor of voice at Pasadena College for nine years.

He began serious study under Montreville Thill in San Diege, California. He has been featured in concert work and in a number of opera productions. He refused the offer of a position with a Hollywood Studio to continue serious study with Guido Casselotti, outstanding voice teacher of Los Angeles.

In commenting upon Friday's recital, Double E. Hill, chairman of the division of fine arts at NNC, said:

"Earle Anderson has enjoyed wide success as a recording and concert artist. He has been acclaimed outstanding for his interpretations of sacred music."

Hill said that the public is invited to attend the recital on Friday.

Spring Revival a

LIBRARY TO BE

Mr. Eli Oboler - President of the Pacific Northwest Library Association, and Head Librarian at Pocatello, Idaho State College will be on campus March 26-30, to make a study of our library. He will point out weaknesses and strong points in the library in preparation for our evaluation for next year.

His office will be set up in the student council office.

The library will be open from 8:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Thursday and Friday during vacation. It will then be closed until the following Tuesday.

Dining Hall

Morrison Dining Hall received a spring face-lifting this week with the appearance of colorful drapes at the windows.

Miss Rhodes was in the dining hall Tuesday evening to explain English style serving which will be carried out most Wednesday evenings throughout the remainder of the school year.

Rev. R. N. Raycroft

Cotton Dress Day Brings in Spring Weather

Spring arrived officially in Nampa at 8:21 a.m. Tuesday morning.

Wednesday the Associated Women Students began the Spring season on the campus with their annual "Cotton Dress Day."

This first parade of pretty cottons added new color and life to

For the past few weeks Hadly Hall parlor has been a scene of busy activity. Every part of the parlor has either been re-painted, re-sanded, or re-decorated. Pictured here are the persons responsible for this activity. From left to right they are: Delores Clark, Rachel Henske, Betty Dalen, Hannah Lu Pittman, Willadean Barber Betty Deffer, and Mary Shaffer. Mary Shaffer is in charge of the project. She has designed and picked the furniture for the parlor. All furniture is modernistic. Especially unique is a light which can be adjusted to any desired height by means of a pulley and weight. Plants, room dividers, new wall paper, and curtains are just part of the many new additions.

Bringing the spring revival to NNC was Rev. R. N. Raycroft, pastor of the Goodwin Memorial Church of the Nazarene, Anderson. Indiana.

Rev. Raycroft has held revivals and campmeetings throughout the United States, as well as pastoring churches.

His unusual knowledge of the scriptures adds much to his sermons and lectures. Mr. Raycroft has also delivered the Miller Lectures in the morning chapel sessions this week.

In charge of the music for the revival is Professor Earle Anderson, voice instructor at Pasadena College.

the campus.

Dinner Wednesday evening was centered around the theme "Forever Spring." Yellow daffo-dils and candles decorated the dining hall. Professor Earle Anderson presented the special music and Bob Hughes introduced the special guests.

Society Plays Progressing

OLY, SLA Choose Play

"Tish", a comedy combining several of Mary Rinhart's stories about an old maid and her two companions, is the play chosen by the Oly-SLA play directors, Mack DeWater and Clayton Martin.

"The books have been ordered and should arrive soon," said Clayton. Tryouts will be scheduled after the books arrive.

Progress is being made on the ADP-LSP play, "Charley's Aunt", to be presented April 13 and 14.

Brad Safell has been chosen for the part of Sir Francis Chesney and the first act is all memorized, reports Marg Clay, LSP play director.

Committees to work on staging, props, costumes, programs, etc., are being chosen. The costume committee, consisting of Barb Sanford, Marg Clay, Wanda Moore, and Wilma Hokinson, went to Boise Wednesday to see about costumes.

N. N. C. CRUSADER

Published weekly during the school year by the students of Northwest Nazarene College, Nampa, Idaho, reflecting their views and opinions, not necessarily those of Northwest Nazarene College. Member of Associated Collegiate Press

EDITORBUSINESS MANAGERADVISOR	Max Urwin Miss Wilson
		ASSISTANT EDITOR	Janet Johnson
		FEATURE EDITOR	Marvin Brunson
SPORTS EDITOR	Roxie Hull
SPORTS COLUMNIST	Wayne Rogers
SOCIETY EDITOR	Eleanor Horne
EXCHANGE EDITOR	Kay Van Allen
HIGH SCHOOL EDITOR	Dave Jackson
ASSISTANT BUSINESS MANAGER	Carolyn Ketchum
CIRCULATION MANAGER	the second s

PAR FOR THE COURSE

Spring vacation begins next Wednesday. We are all looking forward to it. At Christmas time the roads are all icy and dangerous. Now they are dry and dangerous.

I have been keeping score each year at college and so far we are batting a hundred per-cent. When I was a freshman we hit well above the average. We had two or three at least. As a sophomore and junior we made it also.

This year, about Christmas time I thought, "I wonder who it will be this time." It wouldn't be me of course. We might slide some, or go off the shoulder once or twice, but it wouldn't be me. And it wasn't either. Naturally. Of course.

When I came back after Christmas I checked on our average and we were right in there pitching. Maybe crunching is a better word.

Here is the way I face the problem. I know it is there. Then I forget it and drive like mad. Maybe I can make it home in twelve and a half hours this time, instead of thirteen. I like to drive all the way myself. I get a little sleepy along towards the end, but I am still alert enough to know when the wheel slips off the shoulder. I do my best driving when I am half asleep. And I always get home alright. Why shouldn't I this time?

We are hitting par for the course. Not bad for beginners. Give us forty more years of driving. Maybe we can make a birdie sometime. Who knows?

Mr Eby and Jean Figg with the new bell lyra. The lyra was presented to the college band by an NNC friend, and is valued at $165.

MISS. RHODES By Ann Coston

The 12:55 girl's physical education class is lined up ready for action, and whom should we find as their leader? None other than our charming Miss Rhodes. What's so unusual about that, you say? Just this: when we think of a physical ucation last year.

education teacher we sometimes picture a boisterous, untidy, and a one-track-mind (sports) type of woman. However, the case is not such at NNC, for we have a physical education teacher who is a very refined, interesting, and talented young woman. She can play the piano, sew skilfully, and turn out luscious meals.

Miss Rhodes grew up on a farm near Hart, Texas. She attributes her liking for the out-of-doors to this. She graduated from high school in Albequerque, New Mexico. Later she attended Bethany Nazarene College in Bethany, Oklahoma, where she majored in home economics and minored in physical education. While there, she took an active part in the Home Economics Club, Missionary band. Prayer and Fasting group, and Girl's Athletic Club.

Her teaching career in home economics began at NNC in 1952. She began teaching physical ed-

- AND HE WAS MADE TO FLY

He crossed the white concrete in quick excited steps. Sometimes he could hardly believe it. Sometimes it seemed to be a dream. He had longed for it so long, had hoped and dreamed for it and now that it was real it didn't seem possible. Even when he was a child he had wanted this. In high school he took the courses he knew would help him the most. Everything he did was for this. This that he loved and at last was his.

He turned the corner, and then he saw her. An F-100 Super Sabre.

He smiled and walked a little faster. She lay low and sleek in the late afternoon sunlight. Waiting for him. Calling for him to come.

The canopy was open. The mechanics had checked and serviced her. She was ready. He eased himself into the seat and as he did she became a part of him. Her thin-swept wings were his.Her proudly arched tail was his, and her deep throbbing jet was his.

With a touch of power he taxied into position. Then she was nudging him, pushing him against the seat. The runway slipped by on each side. He checked her. Now was the time. Now!

The ground zipped by, then dropped behind. He raised the nose into a steep climb and did a slow roll. Far below him the field was a small spoke-shaped dot.

He leveled off and headed south across the gulf. The sun was going down. It would be dusk soon. He would be coming back in the dark. That was good for he liked night flying. He liked the stars. Up here they were bright and clear. So near it seemed like you could reach out and touch them. Up here he was near the stars, and the sun, and God.

This was what he was made for. This was what he had to do.

He remembered trying to tell the people in his church of the wonderful thing his God had given him, and how it was like this. How each was a part of the other. How the nearness and the calm and the quietness were the same. He tried, but they could only really know if they were up here with him.

And then it happened.

The controls jumped from his hands. The nose tipped slowly and the jet plunged into a steep dive. He was tossed to the left then slung back into the seat. He saw the air speed. He was past Mach 1! He fought down his panic. Grabbing the controls with both hands he pulled desperately. Nothing happened! The hydraulics were gone. He wanted to scream. To run. To leave the jet.

Then he was suddenly calm. He had four-maybe five seconds. The earth rose quickly to meet him. The red sunset glistened on the tilted canopy, and the first bright stars of night looked on.

His eyes closed and he softly whispered - "Thank you dear God thank you for letting me fly."

A tree was made to grow. A child was made to cry. The stars were made to shine. And he was made to fly.

-Richard Reif

N. N. C. CRUSADER

Sports Roxie Hull, Editor

The second volleyball game of the second semester season were played Thursday afternoon with the ADPs playing the LSPs, and the Olys teamed up against the SLAs.

Girls Intramural

Nancy McConnell, ADP, downed Joan Hamilton, SLA, to become the new Girls badminton champ.

Four teams are still in the running for ping pong doubles winner. They are: Hamilton and Harmon, SLA; Kirkpatrick and Phillips, LSP; Nafziger and Wilcox, LSP; and McConnell and Richardson, ADPs. The first volleyball games were played last Friday afternoon with the Olys defeating the ADPs and the LSPs winning over the SLAs by a forfeiture.

Boys Intramural

Remember, fellows, it costs your society points when your team forfeits. The SLAs and ADPs will be playing this afternoon at 3:30 with the LSPs and Olys scheduled to play at 4:30.

Ron Kirkpatrick, Oly, defeated Wally Johnson, ADP, to become the singles ping pong champ of second semester.

Dean Bottlemiller, Oly, is the new single badminton champion. Placing second was ADP, Don Morgan.

Cecil Shephard and Ron Kirkpatrick, Olys, teamed up to win the boys ping pong doubles contest.

Duane Peppley drives into right field in a practice game with Mt. Home Wednesday afternoon. Practically every member on the squad played in the game. It might be of interest to note that the Mt. Home team boasts six professionals.

THE CEDAR CHEST —Home of the— DELICIOUS BARBECUE SANDWICH PLATE Open from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. 13th Ave. So. near Front Street

Dry Cleaning - Pressing - Repairs Alterations

DIAL 6-6331

FREE PICKUP AND DELIVERY

Macy Cleaners & Tailors

Men's and Women's Made-To-Measure Clothes 16 Wall Street Nampa, Idaho BASEBALL SCHEDULE

March 29 Mountain Home April 6 Jordan Valley H.S. April 7 College of Idaho April 10 Mountain Home April 13 Boise Junior College April 17 Melba H. S. April 20 Boise J.V.H.S. April 21 Eastern Oregon College April 24 Mountain Home April 26 Greenleaf H. S. April 27 Weber April 28 Weber April 30 Kuna H. S. May 4 Grandview H. S. May 11 St. Teresa H. S. May 11-12 Conference (Ogden) May 15 College of Idaho May 19 Eastern Oregon College May 5th is coming soon. You won't forget will you?

A Chinese Proverb — He that thinketh by the inch and talketh by the yard should be kicketh by the foot.

Ma, can I go out to play? What, with those holes in your trousers?

Naw, with the kids across the street.

The College High seniors returned from their annual Senior Trip last Saturday. The group of 38 left at 5 a.m. in a bus and arrived at McCall at about 10 o'clock Friday morning. After arriving they checked in their rooms and then went sledding and tobogganing.

Following the dinner the majority continued what they had been doing during the morning, but a few decided to take a try at skiing. That evening, after the banquet in the Shore Lodge dining room the students gathered together for a wonderful spiritual time.

FINEST IN SHIRT LAUNDRY

Kampus Korner — Representative

133 CALDWELL BLVD.

PHONE 6-4676

Tips on Taste

By Kay Van Allen

How do I hold my knife and fork when cutting a piece of meat?

This question has been asked by several students on campus.

When using the knife and fork together, the fork is held in the left hand so that the end of the handle touches the center of the palm of the hand, and the handle is grasped with the thumb and the first and second fingers, the first finger pointing toward the prongs. To illustrate: grasp the fork handle (prongs down) as if it were a hammer; then slide the first finger down the back of the handle; do not let the finger extend along the prongs. Never hold the fork at right angle with the plate. Don't use a broomstick grip.

After the portion of meat has been cut, the knife is laid down and the fork is transferred to the right hand. The meat is then carried to the mouth with the fork, prongs up.

This is the American method. Try it.

GNG Meets Pins Given

GNG met Tuesday evening with LaDonna Nafziger presiding in the absence of President, Lois Morgan.

Girls to receive pins as new associate members were Ruth De-Water and Roxie Hull. Nancy Mc-Connell and LaDonna Nafziger received their letters.

A committee of LaDonna Nafziger, Betty Richardson and Mary Ellen Kirkpatrick are to be in charge of drawing up a spring concession program.

There was discussion of the Play Day to be held in April with BJC and C of I both being invited to bring delegates. Roxie Hull was appointed to head a committee to plan the day.

Other business included approval of the project of buying a filing cabinet for the club. Consideration was also given to the planning of spring breakfast and outing.

Ambassador's on Special Broadcast

KROK will present a special half-hour program of the "Seventh Annual Gospel Quartet Festival," on Sunday at 4:00 p.m. The "Ambassador Quartet," of NNC had the privilege of attending this year's festival and they will be featured in the transcribed program obtained through the courtesy of George Fox College, Newburg, Oregon who sponsors this event.

Cupid's Corner Ran short of arrows. Will be back next week. — Cupid.

Education is the only thing in the world people pay for and try to keep from taking.

Remember Easter with Flowers

- BEAUTIFUL EASTER LILLIES

- CORSAGES
- PLANTED POTS

TALLEY FLORAL SHOP 218 - 12th Ave. So. Ph

Phone 6-1651

CHS BASEBALL The In Club held

The main spring sport of CHS is well underway with coach Virgil Vail and his baseball team promising a lot of action this year.

The Trojans have a full schedule of games ahead of them. BASEBALL SCHEDULE APRIL 4/5-Melba, there

6-Jordan Valley, here 10-Boise J.V.'s, there 12-Kuna, there 13-Jordan Valley, there 17-Melba, here 20-Boise J.V.'s, here 23-Grandview, there 24-St Teresa, there 26-Greenleaf, here 30-Kuna, here MAY 4/5-Grandview, here 8-Greenleaf, there 11-St Teresa, here

> For the BEST HAIRCUTS in Town—it's SHELTON BARBER SHOP

12th Ave. Between Main & 2nd

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS CLUB

The International Relations Club held their regular monthly meeting Tuesday evening.

Ben Clouser and Gene Frink gave interesting reports on their observations about the Borah Conference.

Kenneth Shen was the main speaker of the evening. He spoke to the club on the subject, "Communism in China."

A WONDERFUL WAY TO FEEL BETTER - DRINK THREE GLASSES OF MILK A DAY

HOME DAIRIES

REVIVAL SERVICES

March 21st -- April 1st 7:45 P.M.

HEAR EVANGELIST C. WILLIAM FISHER From Kansas City, Mo.

PREACHER — AUTHOR — MUSICIAN

FIRST CHURCH OF THE NAZARENE

600 - 15th Avenue South NAMPA, IDAHO

